In assuming the above responsibilities we would suggest to our readers the importance of bringing before the public facts and status by which the chief interests of our section can be thoroughly shown up. Daily we are in receipt of letters asking for facts concerning our county -facts concerning sheep, cattle, etc. We endeavor to answer! these many questions; but it is difficult to find out what is doing among the sheep and cattle men without some aid, and to this end we would suggest that those engaged in these interests should let us hear from them. We should alwa s like to know what effect the storms have on the herds and flocks generally in El Paso County; the stock last year undoubtedly fared better than in other counties, ows at a glance the advantage we easionally from our stockmen, dairymen, and those engaged in agriculture; something from which we can write with some coracal second

ENGLAND appears to be getting deeper and deeper into the question of war. It now seems almost impossible to get out of it respectably. Germany will then take hold with Russia, to try and pay off old scores. question of supplying our town with pure water; pure air we have freely given us-every breath is a delight-pure water, which is quite as essential, we can have. Our town justly prides itself upon being a great sanitarium; with our rapidly increasing population, it cannot continue to be this without securing to ourselves an unlimited supply of pure water. Let us take this matter in serious hand; in no way can the new year be better begun. For the sum of $100,000 the water of Bear Creek can be brought to our doors; there are other streams of equally good water, which may probably be used to as much advantage. Our columns are open for practical suggestions on this subject.

THERE is positive need of more accommodations here for visitors; a good apartment house, on the same general plan as those in the East ern cities, is exactly what is wanted. Many persons coming here for health would so gladly avail themselves of this system of housekeeping made easy to any one who has ever had a home, a hotel as a place for a lung sojourn is most forlors, paricularly to persons in delicate health. Our markets are excellent at this seaour ment shops are filled with game and not at high prices, venison from 8 to 15 cents per pound. We are no longer dependant, as formerly, upon canned fruits and vegetables; civil procedure of the State of Colorado went apoles, oranges and the usual winter fruits are planty. There are several successful marketgardens in our neighborhood, vegetables are practice in our justices' courts and arbitrations brought to our doors, our grocery stores are a constant surprise to us, filled as they are with luxuries as well as necessities, so that house. keeping is by no means difficult, except that people do nave such appetites here-the air ings, and to facilitate the enforcement of civil makes one fairly ravenous. Ah! how this dry, pure atmosphere, these bright winter days, even though some of them are cold, makes one bewail the fate of those who at this season find themselves where sunshine is scarce, and clouds, fog, and rain plenty. We are a States the new system of practice has been susspoiled people in the way of weather; now cross we are if once in a while we have want is here called an unpleasant day, but is a day the courts. OUR RESCURCES.

The wear of 1877 has been the best agricu-

turn year Colorado ins known ; the grasscop-

per plague which has so discouraged farmers in the two previous years has entirely cisappeared; early in the season we had plentifurains. Allarge quantity of wheat was sown; the average yie d to the acre of this cereal is from 25 to 20 bushels, in some instances the vie d reaching 60 bushels; the four made from this wheat is unequaled. Barley and oats grow well. Our hay crop for '77 at the lowest estimate was 75,000 tons. O' potatoes, which are remarkable for size and quantity, it is estimated 350,000 bushels were raised. The lowest price or wheat during the year was $1.75 per cwt.; for outs, #1 45; bar ey, #1.75; corn, $1.12; potatoes, #1.35; hay, $12.00 per ton. Our stock raisers also did well. Ninety thousand head of cattle were shipped from the State, estimate these as worth-being fine beeves-$20 a head, the business done will amount to 32,700,000; the value of dressed beef and dairy products will probably reach $700,000-shipments in 1876 amounted to only -20,000. The capital invested in this business is $7,410,000; about two thousand men are engaged in herding. Cattle raising has attained its present proportions within seven years. Our sheep men have been equally successful; the Secretary of the Wool Growers' Association states that there are 1.250,000 sheep in the State worth on an average 22.25 per head. Many fine sheep have been imported and the stock is improving; Colorado sheep average a shearer of at least three pounds; this wool last season brought 20 cents a pound; improved wool brings in Eastern markets ... cents; the cost of transportati pound storage, and commission Sastern markets appreciate Graded amali shrin ext season 534 in items Simep will undred thoroughinto the State ticindoco a head.

OUR PROSPERITY.

Our readers may be tired of hearing us count the years of our town, but we are still young enough not to wish to forget any-still young enough to be pardoned if with youth's proverbial conceit we sometimes boast a little. Is Says Gossip Two to Gossip Three, there not great temptation to boast, when we look upon the many tasteful homes, the many substantial business houses which adorn our streets? It is so short a time since Colorado Springs meant the temporary terminus of the projected railroad, in the midst of a great plain, commanding a near but lovely view of the mountains, and for buildings, one log cabin. The railroad is an accomplished fact; this was not long its terminus; it has gone miles south of us, and is still pushing on; it has climbed mountains and made curves which make it one of the railway wonders, and the heavy freights it carries prove it to have been a necessity. It is a worker, not a drone, among railroads. The plains, the mountain view and the log cabin are still here; people have come to us from all parts of the world; to-day we are a thriving community, We have weathered the hard times under which the whole country has groaned; our shops are so full of customers that one must wait to be waited upon There is not an empty house in the town. If a number of houses should spring up in the night, they would soon find occupants. Lots are steadily rising in value. The question, what is to make a town here? which was heard so often in the beginning of '77, is silenced, or rather answered by the daily long trains of ming down heavily laden from the mines and returning with supplies purchased here, and coke and machinery shipped to this point for the mines. Our freight depot tells daily the story of an over-crowded warehouse. and of busy employes. The few idle people to be found among us have a hard time of it, as short answer is their portion. Accounts from all parts of the State show that we are entering upon the new year with every paomise of a substantial prosperity. Few States have commenced life under such favorable gircumstances as ours. We have the resources within ourselves which are the foundation of wealth; a climate which is unrivaled—one which insures health and strength; our mountains are filled with minerals and coal; our soil is wonderfully adapted to agriculture, grazing and wool growing. The right people have undertaken the development of these resources-people of intelligence and means; a great deal of fine stock has been brought into the State, and the most improved machinery for the mines and for agricultural uses. And so we welcome '78, confi-

The Picturesque Side of American Farm _i'e.—[This subject will be treated in a series of separate papers' engaged from writers who stand in the front rank an ong Americans, both in qualities of style and in keen insight of nature. Mr. R. F. Robinson, author of a delightful paper on "Fux-Hunting in New England" in the January number, will represent the same section in this series. John Burroughs, whose papers on signification in this series, john Burroughs, whose papers on significant topics have been a highly prised and popular feather of Scrike re, will write of Farm Lafe in New York. Mauride: "hompston, the poet-naturabist, will describe the charac elistics of Western farming, of which but little has been wit ten: It is expected that the ullustration of this searce will be of a refined and typical character, commensurate with the subject-matter. It is thought that no paper or series of papers yet issued in Scribner will so fully realize the don-stant devire of the Magazine to keep out of the rate, and, both in text and illustrations, to obtain quality rasher than quantity, and to print fresh, strong, and deligate work from original sources:

"Roxy,"—by Edward Eggleston (author of "The Hoosier Schon master," &c.) This new movel will doubtless be the most important American serial of the year. The first number was published un November. Those who have read it in manuscript declare Rexy to be much the most striking and remarkable story this auchor has ever written. _t is illustrated by one of the ablect of the younger American painers—Mr Walter Shirlaw, President of "The American art Association."

Out-of-door Papers.—by ohn Birroughs, author of "Wake Robin," &c., wil contain not only articlesion Birds, but on "Tramping," "Camping Out," and kindred topics. Mr. Birrough's papers will begin in the anusity number, the first being entitled "Birds and Birds," and illustrated by Fide'is Bridges.

Architecture of Birds.—Dr. Thomas M. Brewer will contribute four exquisitely illustrated articles on birds'-nests, which every lover of nature will delight up. Dr. Brewer has probably the finest collection of birds' eggs in the world to draw upon for the illustration of these papers.

Saddle Horse, Col. George E. Waring, with the Saddle Horse. Col. George E. Waring, with whose excellent work of various sorts our readers are familiar, contributes two illustrated articles on the horse. He treats specially of saddle-horses and their use for pleasure and for sport, including road-riding, fox-hunting, and racing. The nature of the English thoroughbrad and that of his Esserin progenitor (the Arabisn) are fully considered in relation to these uses.

Sake Holm.—New stories by this popular writer will be given in early numbers of Sexbner, beginning with octale's Red Stockings," to appear in January. This "novelette" chronicles an episode of the late war for the Urion.
